

LENROOT QUILTS AS MEMBER OF OIL COMMITTEE

Had Intimated Two Weeks Ago
That Ill Health Would Compel
Retirement if Investigation
Continued Indefinitely

LADD NEW CHAIRMAN

No Delay in Inquiry Into Scandal—Major, Only Witness of Session, and McLean's Agent Galled by Body

Washington, Mar. 11. — Retirement of Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin as chairman and member of the oil committee today overshadowed other developments in the oil inquiry.

He will be succeeded as chairman by Senator Ladd, North Dakota, Republican, identified with the La Follette group, who has been active in charge of the committee since the departure of Senator Lenroot for Southern Pines, N. C., a week ago to recuperate from a threatened attack of nervous exhaustion.

Senator Lenroot's letter of resignation was made public after the oil investigators had cleared up some of the remaining mysteries in the celebrated McLean telegrams by a grilling cross-examination of John F. Major, one of the agents of the Washington

Had Intimated He Would Quit.

Before questioning Major for the third time, the committee expanded in secret session another batch of telegrams, including those from Taro Rivera, M. M., home town of Alben W. Hall, former secretary of the interior and author of the oil lease. Commissioners said the new revelations shed little light on the oil question, although some of them in code might prove relevant.

Senator Loomot's resignation from the oil committee was not wholly unexpected as he gave warning of it in the senate two weeks ago during debate in which he came under the attack from the Democratic side to

At that time Senator Lammie, who is the senator he would be glad to relieve of the duties of chairman, declared that if the investigation turned out to be a waste of time and money he would have to be relieved. His health at the time was poor and a short time later he went to Southern Pine for a bid.

Investigation Not to Be Delayed.

Senator Ladd is next in line for the chairmanship, as Senator Smith the former chairman, was relieved of that place because of his elevation to the chairmanship of the powerful finance committee. The resignation of Senator Leavett will not interfere in any way with the all investigation which from the start has been almost exclusively under the direction of Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, who has taken the lead both in developing the facts and in examining the witnesses.

Major was the only witness heard today by the committee, it was emphasized in his declaration that Mr. Leann, who has been summoned to appear tomorrow, has had no hesitation in taking the witness stand; that the almost feverish activity of the employees here during January was solely in the interest of having a deposition taken in Florida so as to make unnecessary a trip to Washington at a time when he was ill and Mrs. Leann and their son had just undergone operations.

sum, Republican, New Mexico, that McLean might have hesitated to appear because of the conflicting stories he had given the committee about the $100,000 loan to Fall. Major said these stories might be embarrassing to McLean but that he was ready to come in spite of them and despite the advice of his representatives in Washington.

FOR MINUTE AT 3 O'CLOCK

New York, Mar. 11.—(AP)—The entire New York Central railroad system will be suspended for one minute tomorrow afternoon during the funeral services at St. Thomas church for Alfred H. Smith, pastor of the Zion, who was killed Saturday when he was thrown from his horse in Central park.

ness at the same period, out of respect to Mr. Smith. The great northern railway of the Grand Central terminal here has been devoted to carrying the services of St. Thomas church, and by broadcast by radio from station WJZ. It will be the first time that Federal services for a particular cause have been broadcast.

BREVITIES

The latest threatened strike is that of radio men engaged in broadcasting. The strike, if it comes, which is not probable, will not be of operators joined in union but the temporary cessation of sending, as protest against the alleged efforts of the American Telegraph & Telephone company to create a sending monopoly, and also against the refusal of music publishers to permit their copyright productions to be put "on the air" unless a royalty is paid. It is alleged that these publishers have adopted a slogan "one million dollars from radio," and will not permit the use of their music unless that amount is raised by pro rata subscriptions from the industry. Wherefrom it appears that they must have bank notes in exchange for musical.

But, as for the music publishers, would any great harm come from their refusal to permit the latest jam to be sent broadcast? The great mass of the best music is not modern stuff which is heard in dance hall and cabaret, but rather such fine productions as those of Mozart, Mendelssohn, Wagner, Liszt, and the composers of the great national airs and the folk and home songs which are a world's heritage. If the jam were sent out it would be no great loss, and it would leave the air free for the noble airs and songs of the ages. Such a boycott as that by the music publishers proposed instead of doing harm would be a long step forward. Certainly it would be a fine thing to be assured that only the best in music would be coming from the air.

It is the opinion of Governor Smith, who not being a lawyer cannot be accused of bias at least on the side of the courts, that the judges of the municipal courts of New York city do not in many instances fulfill even the minimum requirements of a satisfactory administration of justice, and that the degree of legal attainments which the judges bring to their office is shown by the fact that nearly fifty per cent of the cases decided by them are reversed on appeal. The governor holds that the courts are too political, that the districts follow too closely political lines and that the party leaders use the courts in too many instances for the payment of party debts. It is a serious situation, and it is a serious situation to be remedied.

It was Mark Twain who said that people spent a great deal of time complaining about the weather, but that nothing was done about it. This is true about a great many objectionable things: the enforcement of the Volstead act, fishing and hunting out of season, and so on up and down a list of staggering proportions. Nobody, now that Wiggins, the rainmaker, has failed, seems able to do anything about the weather; but there is a great deal which can be done in the way of law enforcement if only every loyal citizen will give his attention to it. The obligation is not one which, once the statutes are on the books, can be turned over to sheriffs, constables, police and the state constabulary. Proper enforcement is everybody's business, and it with more and more laws lumbering the books, law is still ignored. It is because the average citizen does not do his duty.

If an object lesson is required to drive home the need of rigid selection of immigration, as well as numerical limitation, say the New York Tribune, the annual report of the State Hospital commission supplies it. Of the 41,000 patients in the state civil hospital last year, more than 10,000 were alien, while 7,300 were naturalized citizens. The alien income cost the state of New York $2,000,000 in 1935. Since the majority of these alien patients have been in the state more than five years, they cannot be deported. As the main part of every New York bears a disproportionate share of the deadweight of the underclass who slide through the immigration sieve. The state is unfairly loaded with a burden that is imposed only because the Federal immigration law has failed to select immigrants who might never have been admitted.

Interesting Missionary Program. There were about 125 present at the meeting of the Westana Church Missionary society held in the church parlors of the First Methodist church yesterday afternoon.

The program which was rendered was both pleasing and educational. Mrs. L. E. Covey gave a well prepared paper on the progress and growth of education and the need of educational improvement in rural districts. Mrs. J. M. Todd gave a talk on the "Home and Home" which was a very interesting and helpful contribution during the year and continued the work of each. Mrs. J. M. Todd sang "The Lord's Prayer," and Mrs. J. M. Todd sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The program was very interesting and helpful. Mrs. J. M. Todd sang "The Lord's Prayer," and Mrs. J. M. Todd sang "The Lord's Prayer."

"TAKEN" FROM EXCHANGES

A Great Player in Baseball

The world of baseball is in sorrow because of the death of Patrick Moran, one of the outstanding figures in the great national pastime and the successful manager of the Cincinnati "Reds," National league team.

Mr. Moran's end came after an illness of five days. He had been a big figure in baseball since 1891, when he became a catcher for the Boston Nationals. Later, he became one of the principal members of the Chance team in Chicago.

His greatest prominence, which caused him to be called a "miracle man," by devotees of the sport, came in 1915 when he won a championship for the Philadelphia National league team out of material which was most unpromising. Baseball "fandom" recognized that it was the genius of Moran, rather than the ability of the team, which captured that pennant.

Passing to Cincinnati Moran won a pennant and a world's championship there. There never has been a season since 1919 when the "Reds," under the able leadership of this capable general of baseball, have not been a real pennant contender in the National league.

Two Germanys

It is essential that in all considerations of the German situation one bear in mind that there are two Germanys. There is the Germany of the industrialists; the Germany that—while its children starve—sends representatives to the United States to negotiate large financial deals. This Germany laughs up its sleeve at the idea of democracy. This is the Germany that the world sought to destroy between 1914 and 1918—the prototypes of which need to be totally destroyed in every nation.

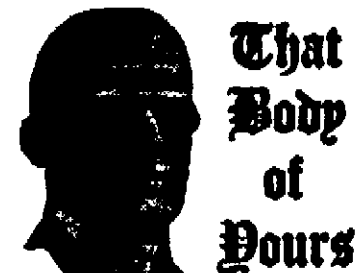

Then there is the Germany that believes in the republic, and is determined that democratic fundamentals have a chance. This we believe to be the Germany of the masses. This is the Germany that paid most heavily in the war and suffers most today. This, fortunately, is the Germany the world is asked to help by those who are seeking funds for relief.

Back to the Old Name

Now that there is a prospect that most of the "wildcat" institutions, including the prisons, will soon be renamed from Welfare Island, its new name is losing friends and it is proposed to go back—not to "Blackwell" but to Minnahanock, which is said to be its Indian title. That would have the advantage of being likely to stay put.—[Springfield Republican.]

No One Believes

The Democrats cannot make the country believe that the President has sought to suppress the truth about the oil leases, or to shield the guilty. If they aim to assassinate his character they are engaged in a perilous adventure that can have but one outcome—their own deserved discomfiture.—[Springfield Republican.]

By James W. Bates, M.D., DUKE'S THE WORK

A patient came to his physician in great distress. His history was about as follows. He worked in an office where there were a great many other employees. Quite a number were doing exactly the same kind of work as himself. However, where before he was able to accomplish a much work as any of the others, he now found that he was hardly as good as the average. Just a little below in fact.

He had always done office work and was only thirty-five years of age. His employers said nothing. In fact when he stayed away a day or two on account of his "nerves," they were very sympathetic in the matter and advised him that perhaps he was working too hard.

"Now doctor," he said, "as a matter of fact I don't think I'm working too hard, do you?"

The doctor said, "Yes, you are working too hard, but not for your own."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, you are a natural born worrier. You are over conscientious about anything. You go back to the office at midnight if you thought you had not done all that you could."

"About your wife's health, your own health, the possibility of your losing your position."

Am I right?

"Yes," answered the patient. "Well you can't work day and night and expect to do justice to your work as the office. All this intense thought, worry, imagination, are wearing out your nervous system, just the same as if you were doing hard manual work. You are an accountant. You have to concentrate on your work at the office because you can't afford to make mistakes."

Perhaps during your work in the office your mind will go off on some of these things that are worrying you. Your office work is not so efficiently, or so quickly done under such circumstances.

Then when you come home there is no mental rest, because your mind goes off and works just as hard on these "self" problems, as it does at your work, perhaps even harder.

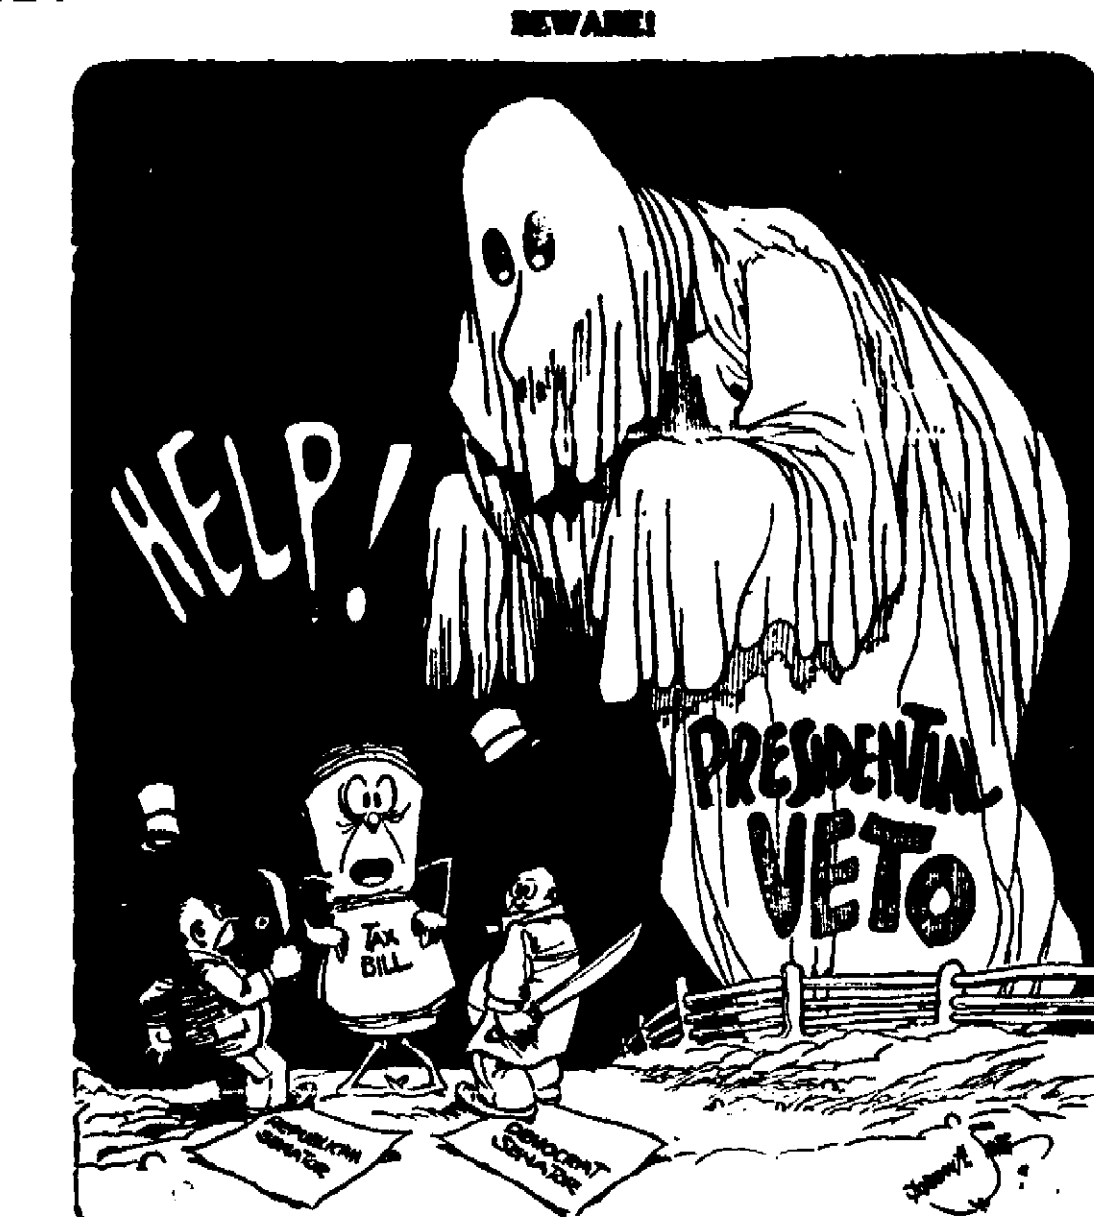

So you are really working harder than some of your fellow employees, but it doesn't turn out as much "other" work.

"What shall I do?"

"You don't need medicine. Just remove your common sense to your help. It will show you what a mistake you are making in trying to do 'mental work' day and night."

TAXATION OF DIVIDENDS

Facts Regarding State Tax Returns of Interest to Many Shareholders.

Dividends received on shares of trust companies, banks and banking associations where these companies are taxable in New York state, are not taxable to shareholders. Being New York Personal Income Tax returns. Harold V. Farrell, an auditor of the State Income Tax bureau, who is at Oneonta from February 29 until March 15, assisting taxpayers, said further that where local assessors had put a person on the new moneyed capital assessment roll, that income from such principal was not taxable under the personal income tax law.

"In general, however," said this representative, "dividends are taxable under the state law, which in that particular is different from the federal statute cash dividends comprise any distribution in the ordinary course of business and are taxable under the state law, regardless of when the earnings of profits out of which they were paid were accumulated. In the case of the federal law there is a distinction as to the extension of a certain part of cash dividends paid out of surplus accumulated prior to March 1, 1913.

"True stock dividends are not taxable when received but represent a greater addition to the stockholder's interest than he originally had before their issuance. When any of the original or dividend shares of stock are sold, gain may be realized or loss sustained. By 'true stock dividends' is meant the distribution by a corporation of new or previously unissued stock among its stockholders to represent an amount transferred on its books from surplus or undivided profits, account to capital stock account, but in no instance do true stock dividends refer to those paid in stock of corporations other than those declaring them or paid in stock of the declaring corporations which has been once issued and afterwards repurchased.

THE GUIDE POST—BY HEARY VANDYKE

THE HUNGER FOR TRUTH

You shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.—John 8:32.

There are questions arising in human nature which demand an answer.

If it is denied we cannot help being disappointed, restless and sad. This is the price we have to pay for being conscious, rational creatures.

If we were mere plants or animals, we might go on living through our appointed time in complete indifference to the origin and meaning of our existence.

But, within us, as human beings, there is something that cries out and rebels against such a blind life.

Man is born to ask what things mean.

John Fiske brought out this fact very clearly in his last book, Through Nature to God.

He shows that "In the morning twilight of existence the Human Soul vaguely reached forth toward something akin to itself, not in the realm of fleeting phenomena, but in the Eternal Presence beyond."

To argue by the analogy of evolution, which always presupposes a real relation between the life and the environment to which it adjusts itself, that this forth-reaching and unfolding of the soul implies the ever-lasting reality of religion.

The argument is good. The point which concerns us now is simply this:

The forth-reaching, questioning soul can never be satisfied if it touches only a dead wall in the darkness. If its seeking meets with the reply: "You do not know, and you never can know, and you must not try to know."

This is agonizing.

It is only another way of spelling disappointment.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

—Red Cross work room will be open this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

—W. O. Thompson will speak concerning his own classification, machine industry manufacturers, at the luncheon Thursday of Oneonta Rotary club.

—Today is Railroad day with the Kiwanis brotherhood. The speaker will be George E. Bates of Albany, assistant to the vice-president of the D. & H. company. He will discuss "Railroad Industrial Relations with the Community."

—There were about forty drivers of cars present at the chauffeurs' examination yesterday at the Oneonta State armory. The work was finished a little after noon. The date of the April examination has not yet been announced. Among those present yesterday was a goodly number from other towns of Otsego and Delaware.

STATE COMMANDER'S VISIT

Plans for Big Affairs Discussed at Meeting Last Evening of Oneonta Post of American Legion.

Plans for the official visit to Otsego county on March 25, of Edward Spafford, state commander of the American Legion, were discussed at the regular monthly meeting of Oneonta post last evening. A banquet for Commander Spafford, at which will be in attendance officers and delegates from all the posts of the county, will be held at the James' Hotel at 6:30 o'clock and it is planned to hold following the meal, a reception at which an opportunity will be afforded all Legionnaires to meet Commander Spafford.

The visit of Commander Spafford to all the posts of the county and it is hoped that good sized delegations will be present from each post. At the banquet Commander Spafford will confer with the post officers as to the policies of the Legion and it is expected that much good will be derived from the discussion. William M. Leffingwell, chairman of the sixth judicial district Legion organization, will hold a district conference in Oneonta on the same day, making it a date of considerable importance on the Legion calendar. This conference will be attended by representatives from all of the nine counties of the district.

The Legion caps which were ordered at the last meeting were distributed last evening. The caps, which will be worn by the post members on parade and at public functions generally, are of the overseas type, navy blue in color and piped with gold braid. On the left front side is an oblong of silk upon which is stamped in gold "250," the post number, and "N. Y.," designating the department.

The entertainment at the meeting was furnished by Frank Mantica of Oneonta and was thoroughly enjoyed by the ex-doughboys and gobs. Mr. Mantica gave several very clever Hebrew impersonations during which he cracked many jokes at the expense of post members. The refreshments, provided by Messrs. Bergman, Albert Winn, consisted of fruit salad, sandwiches and coffee, and the difference between them and army fare was startling.

Strong Appeal to Continue Delhi Agricultural School

Initiation to Their Young Men and Women for Farming Needed to Prevent Farm Abandonment Now So Prevalent—Argument Well Presented at Hearing Conducted by Assembly Ways and Means Committee Yesterday—Large Delegation from Delhi Attended.

Friends of the State School of Agriculture at Delhi made a strong appeal for its continuance at the hearing before the ways and means committee of the assembly at the state capitol yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The measure, which has been introduced in the state legislature, provides for the discontinuance of that school and for the creation of a new school along similar lines at Brookport, Monroe county. It will be recalled that Governor Smith sent to the legislature a few weeks ago a special message recommending the enactment of such a law and accompanying the recommendation with a report from Commissioner of Education Fred P. Graves, in which the commissioner urged the enactment in the interest of economy and efficiency. Mr. Graves contending that there should be discontinued one of the three schools in this part of the state and because Delhi is the middle one it should be scrapped.

Assemblyman McGinnies of Chautauque county, chairman of the ways and means committee, presided and when he announced the opening of the hearing the spacious room of the committee was well filled, supporters of the Delhi school being largely in the majority. If numbers and force of arguments advanced are controlling the Delhi school will not be discontinued. There was no one who argued that any school of agriculture should be discontinued, other than Commissioner Graves, who in a rather half-hearted way supported his original report and urged that until the state can establish one of these schools for each group of three or four counties, which he would welcome, he felt impelled to recommend that one of the three, Delhi, Cobleskill or Morrisville be discontinued, and that Delhi seems the one indicated because of geographical location.

Those opposed to the measure itself were first heard and were given a half hour. S. Forman Adee acted as leader of the Delhi supporters and announced the speakers. E. O. Harkness of Delhi, school superintendent in the Delhi district, was the first to speak and he made the principal appeal for the retention of the school. Mr. Harkness said that he had no intention to speak of the needs of a similar school at Brookport, the opposition being solely concerned in the continuation of the Delhi school. At its very doors are 11,000 farmers, owning over 175,000 cows with upwards of 300,000,000 quarts of milk produced annually, he said. He urged that the replacement value of the Delhi school is easily $250,000, yet it offered for sale would likely not bring to exceed $10,000. The $15,000 mentioned in the bill for the Brookport project is only the entering wedge, he urged, and probably it means $500,000 before the school is in full operation as is now the Delhi school. The proposed school at Brookport would be located at near Alfred, where is another of the schools, as is

NEAR BLIZZARD YESTERDAY

ROADS ABOUT STAMFORD BLOCKED WITH SNOW, CATCHING MANY MOTORISTS.

Storm Occurs on 50th Anniversary of Famous Blizzard of 1888—But Corners of Delinquent Hits Oneonta Most Roads Not in Bad Condition.

Those who thought that the roads, when opened following the severe storms of some weeks ago, would not again be blocked evidently figured without a knowledge of the caprices of March weather, for an unannounced snow storm struck the region hereabouts early yesterday morning and by nightfall roads in certain sections were plugged tight. Conditions generally are not bad but along the line of the Ulster & Delaware railroad drifts piled up rapidly and no relief was in sight late last night.

Oneonta was evidently visited by but a corner of the storm. Snow fell intermittently during the day but melted nearly as soon as it struck the ground. The furries increased in volume last evening but not to an extent to occasion apprehension. In the vicinity of Hobart, Stamford and Grand Gorge conditions were far different, however. The storm, which started at about 5 a. m., soon attained the proportions of a blizzard and several motorists are authority for the statement that it was the worst day of the winter for driving. The road is clear from Oneonta to Harpersfield Center, but from that village to Stamford it is impassable, as it is also from Stamford to Grand Gorge.

O. J. Buck, proprietor of the Stamford bus line, made his regular trip yesterday morning, but going back he was forced to stop at Harpersfield Center. He reports that fully a dozen cars are fast in the snow between Harpersfield and Stamford. Most of them on their way to the city, driving a new Buick car in from New York city, was able to get through only with the aid of a farmer and a pair of hobs. Mr. Pitts holding the Book Learning is Burn Good front of his car onto the hole and having the farmer pull him through the deeper drifts. H. D. Weston became snowed out and had to leave his machine and come to Oneonta on the train.

The storm was severe about Hobart but heavy trucks kept moving over the roads all day with the result that they are open around that village and including the routes to Delhi and Stamford. It seems that the storm was most severe around that section as no trouble has been reported from other quarters.

Amateurism of Famous Blizzards
Yesterday's near blizzard occurred on the 50th anniversary of the famous blizzard of 1888, well remembered by many. That was a real blizzard, however, and not a stir out, as will be recalled very vividly.

The blizzard, however, in weather conditions in the east, began on the evening of Sunday, March 11, 1888, it came from a clear sky, so to speak, as the preceding days had been warm

Delhi to Cobleskill, which would leave Brookport and Alfred nearer than would be any of the other schools.

Other speakers heard in support of the Delhi school and making effective arguments for its continuance were H. C. McKenna of Walton, Assemblyman G. T. Cross of Sullivan county, Hon. D. F. Wilber, of Oneonta, representing the Oneonta Chamber of Commerce and speaking for the city and Otsego county farmers, all of whom took issue with the school as one of the forces tending to prevent further depopulation of the farms of this section, he said; Hon. L. R. Long of New Kingston, former member of assembly from Delaware county.

Support for Brookport

Assemblyman Austin, who introduced the measure, announced the speakers supporting the bill, introducing first Commissioner of Education Graves, who said that purely local desires should not predominate and that he had advised what seemed best for the interest of the state as a whole, being placed in the position requiring him to advise so he could see no alternative. He has no favorites and no desire to discriminate, he said, simply advising that if a number of such schools are to be limited to six, that there is no doubt that Delhi is the one in all fairness to be dropped. Principal Thompson of the Brookport Normal school and various residents of Monroe county, including representatives of the Farm bureau and Grange, were also heard in support of the measure.

When the hearing ended none of the committee gave any intimation as to individual or collective conclusions, and it will probably be weeks before any determination is reached.

Delhi Sends Delegation

Delhi had a large delegation of representative men, who attended the hearing all interested keenly in the outcome. It included: W. M. Humphries, E. O. Harkness, John Leary, R. B. MacFarlane, Director C. O. Dubois, Rev. G. E. Robinson, John Forman, Russell Archibald, S. F. Adee, C. E. Kirt, W. S. Olmstead, R. R. Graham, A. F. Robinson, G. D. Arbutnot, W. D. Southworth, J. F. Taylor, O. R. Truesdell, C. T. Telford, Editor A. C. Wyr, H. S. Marvin, and A. D. Rowell. Other residents of Delaware county present and endorsing the appeal were Jerome Farrell, H. C. McKenna and R. Q. Smith, Walton; Hon. L. R. Long, New Kingston; Elmer Jenkins, Fleischmanns; H. W. Harper of Harpersfield. A former resident of Delhi, now of Canastota, was also present to show his interest.

The Oneonta Chamber of Commerce, which went on record as believing that it would be better economy to establish an entirely new school rather than to scrap the Delhi school, was represented at the hearing by a special committee composed of Hon. David F. Wilber, Hon. L. P. Butts, and H. W. Lee.

and sunshiny, and the ground was practically bare. On Sunday rain began to fall, which changed at nightfall to sleet and then to light, powdery snow. When morning dawned on the 13th the blizzard was in full swing. It raged all day and night and not until Tuesday was well over did it stop snowing. During the three days over two feet of snow fell, snow so light that the piles piled it into drifts many feet high.

There were no automobiles, of course, in those days, but railroad traffic was at a standstill and for hours not a wheel moved on the Albany & Susquehanna, now the Delaware & Hudson. Various cities in the state were isolated. Country roads were impassable for days and most villages were cut off from the rest of the world for days. In some cases mail was delayed for a full week. Telegraph and telephone lines were down for the most part.

No storm since has exceeded the blizzard of 1888 in violence.

TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Oneonta Club Will Hold Banquet Annual Meeting This Evening—Special Program Arranged.

An event of considerable interest to Oneonta club members, the 50th anniversary of the organization of the club, will be celebrated in connection with the annual meeting of the club this evening. A committee has been at work for some time on preparations for the event and an evening of much enjoyment is promised.

Charles F. Shollard, a charter member, will tell of the early days of the club, and Miss Christine Crippen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crippen and a student at the Leonard Powers school in Boston, Mass., will give several readings. At 11 o'clock a buffet supper will be served. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected during the evening.

The club was organized on March 14, 1886, as an outgrowth of the D. F. Wilber Hook and Ladder company. The first rooms were in the old Wilber bank building, the present club house at the corner of Dietz street and Reynolds avenue being built in 1895.

Baby Clinic

At the baby clinic held yesterday afternoon there were seven babies present in all and one of them was a new patient. It is interesting to note that despite the heavy snow which fell all the afternoon one mother walked all the way from West Broadway and carried her baby in order to be present at the clinic.

It's a Barracks Now

This old Madison church of Oregon is serving as a barracks. Troops of Oregon's army are quartered there. Soldiers are posted behind the columns. Another set of stairs over the main entrance. If the rebels put in their appearance, they'll be pretty much up against it.

VALIANT SOLDIER AT REST

Funeral of Stanley A. Miller, Native of Oregon, Held Monday at 10:30.

Funeral services for the late Stanley A. Miller were held at 10:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon from the home of 22 West Rand street, Salem, with Rev. Frank Anderson, his pastor, officiating. There was a very large attendance of friends and relatives, including the following from Oregon: Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Byron H. Chubb, Dr. George W. Austin, Thomas Husted, John Pearson, A. G. Butts and Herman Vreese. Following the remarks of the officiating clergyman, Major Miller was laid to rest in the cemetery at Salem. The deceased served in France during the World war, paid tribute to his soldierly qualities, speaking in part as follows:

"I am speaking not alone for myself but for that company of men who served with him under the colors and called him comrade. It was my privilege to live with him through days of stress and danger.

"Common emergencies and common dangers bring out traits of character that lie dormant in ordinary affairs. And so we learned to know a side of him that perhaps you who loved him best did not know. He served his country well. That is not uncommon. He gave it loyalty and devotion, which is also not uncommon. But he had a calm and cheerful bearing amidst great chaos which is less common. And finally he had a heroism above and beyond the call of duty that was altogether commendable.

"Let me give you an illustration of this. He never spoke of it, I am sure. He was too modest. But it deserves to be known. When an occasion arose which looked as if men were being sent to certain death, I asked for volunteers to accomplish the mission. In a quiet, calm and self-assured manner, he said, 'Major, I will go.' That is what I mean when I said above and beyond the call of duty.

"It is easy to say fine things of those who have gone to the great beyond. But it was my privilege to say them of my dear comrade while he still lived. And what I said brought him a well deserved reward. He was given a divisional citation for gallantry in action and wears upon his heart a cross for conspicuous and meritorious service.

"And so in the name of those who served with you in a regiment which wrote a glorious chapter in the pages of the American Expeditionary Force, farewell! You have gone to your great reward like a soldier. Sleep well!"

The flowers were unusually numerous and beautiful and included pieces from Oregon lodge, F. & A. M., and the Luther League Brotherhood of this city.

The services were in charge of Crim-Shaffer post of the American Legion, of which he was a loyal member. The body was placed in a vault in an Illinois cemetery for interment there in the spring.

VETERAN ENGINEER DEAD

William Hettlinger Long in Employ of D. & H. at Albany.

William Hettlinger, husband of Mrs. Anna Maxmiller and father of Frank W. and Louis E. Hettlinger, died suddenly yesterday morning at his home, 239 South Pearl street. Besides his wife and two sons, Mr. Hettlinger leaves one sister, Mrs. John Langhorst. He was employed by the D. & H. as an engineer and was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers and Temple commandery, 2 K. T. The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his home, where the Rev. Henry Keller, pastor of the Evangelical Protestant church, will conduct services. Services will be held at 2:30 o'clock at Masonic temple, where members of Temple commandery, 2 K. T., will have charge. Burial will be in the Rural cemetery. Undertaker Foll has charge of the funeral arrangements.—Albany Journal.

A Native of Bainbridge

A letter received by The Star yesterday from E. A. Strong of Los Angeles, Cal., inclosed a clipping from a newspaper of that city which carries notice of the death after several weeks' illness of Melvin Clark Nichols of Hollywood, who was a native of Bainbridge, and in early life moved to the middle west, where he became identified with the construction of the Missouri Pacific railroad, which he helped to build across the continent. He was a resident of Hollywood for 25 years, and until a few years ago had been engaged in the insurance business. He is survived by two daughters, both of Los Angeles. The funeral services were held one week ago today.

Reveries of Respect

Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to call from the New Lisbon grange to the Great Home, our Sister Matron Mrs. Lena Hinman.

Resolved, That while we mourn her death and shall miss her genial spirit, ready thought, and helping hand, we bow in submission to God's will. Also be it resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days.

Be it further resolved, That these resolutions be placed on the records of this grange, printed in The Oregonian Star, and a copy sent to the bereaved family, expressing our sympathy in their great sorrow.

Margaret Robinson.
Amy Barton, Committee.

Funeral Announcement

The body of the late Agostino Madaleno, whose fatal injuries were told in The Star of yesterday, was yesterday taken to the home of his parents in Maryland by Undertaker Rothery. The funeral services will be held on Thursday, at 10:30 o'clock from the late home and shortly after 11 o'clock from St. Joseph's church at Worcester with Rev. Father T. E. Rothery celebrating a requiem mass. The body will be placed in the vault at Worcester.

WATCH RURAL DANCE HALLS

Will Be Given Closer Scrutiny by State Troopers This Season Than Ever Before.

Country dances must be kept clean morally and liquor must be kept out or they will be closed. Cafe proprietors who move from the cities to the country in the expectation that they will be able to flagrantly violate the law will face drastic measures at the hands of the New York state troopers.

State highways also are to be patrolled this summer with greater vigor than ever before and violators of the state motor law will receive little mercy.

The troopers are out this year to accomplish real results, and although which allows but little publicity, and are often, it is said, unjustly criticized by those they are trying to aid. They recently received official recognition by Governor Alfred E. Smith in a speech made before district attorneys and sheriffs from all over the state, for efficient work, accomplished during the last year.

While on a patrol in the country it is the duty of the trooper to inspect farms along the highway to see that cattle are properly cared for and sanitary conditions conform to the state laws. Complaints of farmers are promptly looked after and the trooper is also expected to keep his eyes open for moonshine stills or liquor violations on the farms. Dance halls, theatres or public buildings are to be inspected and not infrequently trips are taken out of the way places for violators of the conservation laws.

One of the most interesting sights to visitors who visit the barracks at Sidney is the 5 patrol horses, and 12 colts raised by the troop, which are kept in perfect condition and are a great source of pride to the men who own them.

Captain Fox, commander of the Sidney troop, was formerly a trooper in the ranks and was later promoted to the lieutenant of Troop A at Batavia. He was made captain of Troop C when it was organized three years ago.

A Birthday Surprise

Sunday last was the fifth birthday of G. L. Vorhees of 27 Brewer avenue, and in honor of the event a party of about 25 friends gave him a pleasant surprise on Monday evening. The evening was spent in visiting and games, and refreshments, including a big birthday cake, were served by the guests, who all demonstrated Mr. Vorhees many happy returns of the day.

Stop Calomel and Harsh Cathartics!

Indigestion, Headaches, Biliary Spasms, Constipation Can Be Treated Best Without Strong, Nauseating Purgatives.

When your stomach is sour and empty, when your liver is sluggish and your kidneys and bowels inactive, you are bound to feel miserable—and waste in this condition the life of strong, vibrant vitality in a very short time and may lose your condition forever.

As a result, more and more people are turning to the use of a powerful, natural laxative in the form of a pleasant, palatable, and safe—Laxative.

It is a fact that a large percentage of the people who suffer from indigestion, headache, biliary spasms, constipation, and other ailments, are using Calomel and other harsh cathartics, and are doing so to their own detriment.

A Girl at My Age

Because of a French-type clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

For 46 years I have been a famous beauty. I am a youthful beauty still. On the stage I play young girl's parts, and I look like a girl of 19.

Many years ago French experts taught me the use of clay. That clay multiplied my beauty—made me the rage of New York.

Then clays were crude and muddy, as many clays are still. Since then, French experts have perfected clay. They have made it white and clean and dainty. They have added factors which bring manifold effects.

I now use that perfected clay, and call it my White Youth Clay. I am an example of what that new-type clay does for women.

You Must Use Clay.

No girl or woman who cares for beauty can now omit her clay. No girl can look her best without it, no woman can keep her youth. The users of clay, with their rosy, clear complexions, stand out in every crowd.

Clay purges the skin of all that clogs it—the causes of mallowness, blackheads and blemishes. It brings blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is that rosy afterglow which so amazes and delights.

Clay makes plain girls beauties. And older women, in 10 minutes, seem to drop ten years.

Clay firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. Look at me—a miracle of old-age youth. That could never have come without clay.

The Best is Yours.

Now I bring you this new-type clay which France perfected for me. If you are a clay user, the multiplied results will amaze you. If you don't use clay, the quick results will astound you.

You owe to yourself a test.

Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay is supplied by all druggists and toilet counters. Price 50c and $1.00 per tube. Also my Youth Cream which should follow the clay. Also my Facial Youth — my famous liquid cleanser. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

I am doing this to serve you—to bring you greater beauty, longer youth. Go learn how much they mean to you, starting with my Youth Clay. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

INSTRUCTIONS BY RADIO

Complete State Income Tax Official. Give Information via Wireless Station Regarding 26 Per Cent Refund.

Albany, Mar. 11.—Streaks of silver being in the usual dark cloud of state income taxes are the 25 per cent reduction and the higher personal exemptions.

These references were sent "into the air" from three broadcasting stations in the state last night. From WGY at Schenectady, First Assistant Director James T. Somers, of the state income tax bureau, talked. District Director James M. Mangan spoke through WHAM at Rochester, and District Director Henry Sellheim used the microphone at WGR at Buffalo. These three powerful stations are picked up on crystal and tube sets in practically the entire state, so the income tax bureau established a precedent in radio history by directing waves of information to every border of the state.

These broadcasts amounted the real thing behind the new 15 per cent reduction as the director to taxpayers to personally make this out in their tax payment. They referred to thousands of returns coming in since the change of this measure will full the treasury and could not under any circumstances.

Those who prefer to wait a few months until their returns are reached in April for these rebates rather than go ahead and make the subtraction an actual saving when filing the return.

They explained that where returns were put in with the full payments, it is impossible to locate these originals in the bureau because they are among many thousands, were being sorted. No necessity exists, they said, for taxpayers to write in and ask for a refund in any case; there will all be made when the returns are reached in April without any action on the part of the taxpayers. No refunds are being made at this time, but can they be made until the expected one million returns are ready for review.

Further, where checks have been sent in for the full payment, taxpayers are asked not to stop payments on them but rather let them go through their banks and await the refunds to be made by the bureau.

Merry in Michigan

Word has been received here of the marriage of Ralph Fischer, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Jackson, Mich., and Miss Elsie Smith, daughter of Cassius A. Smith, of Jackson, Mich.—(Binghamton Press.)

Stop Calomel and Harsh Cathartics!

Indigestion, Headaches, Biliary Spasms, Constipation Can Be Treated Best Without Strong, Nauseating Purgatives.

When your stomach is sour and empty, when your liver is sluggish and your kidneys and bowels inactive, you are bound to feel miserable—and waste in this condition the life of strong, vibrant vitality in a very short time and may lose your condition forever.

As a result, more and more people are turning to the use of a powerful, natural laxative in the form of a pleasant, palatable, and safe—Laxative.

It is a fact that a large percentage of the people who suffer from indigestion, headache, biliary spasms, constipation, and other ailments, are using Calomel and other harsh cathartics, and are doing so to their own detriment.
